

2017 RMPC Program Highlights

Reduce Your 2017 Renewal Premium With Sustained Risk Management

Since 2006, United Educators (UE) has rewarded members who have taken action to reduce risk at their school, college, or university with a risk management premium credit (RMPC). Many members have participated in this program, impacting risk at their own institution to reduce claims, and benefiting the entire UE membership by doing so.

Member success with the RMPC program has enabled UE to expand by revising the qualifying activities and giving members the opportunity to earn an even greater premium discount. Now, members can earn a 6 percent discount on their renewal premium through the RMPC. The program involves two phases and specific milestones for implementation, designed to help the member sustain risk management activities throughout the entire 2016-2017 policy period.

It's important to get an early start on working toward your institution's 2017 RMPC. The qualifying activities described below are time-sensitive, and to earn the full premium discount, members should initiate activity immediately after their 2016 renewal or new policy issuance (with effective dates between May 1, 2016, and April 30, 2017). Credits earned for completed qualifying activities will be awarded on the 2017 renewal (between May 1, 2017, and April 30, 2018), of their UE policies.
